79. You will come to a bench on your right

[Water stop #7 is Rusty Toler's bench near his back patio-19.7 miles]

80. Continue on past the dock. The first house past the dock on the right is Nelson and Charlotte Stritehoff's home. They may have some "aid" out there also. It's only 1/2 mile from the last stop so don't overdo it!

81. Stay on the path as it takes you under Broken Land Pkwy. And continue on to the trestle bridge that will take you over the Patuxent River (keep following those darn yellow arrows!)

[Water stop #8 will be just left of the trestle bridge, before crossing it- 22.45 miles]

82. At the trestle bridge it's the next to last water stop. You have 3.75 miles to the finish!!

83. Cross the trestle bridge and bear to your left. The path becomes crushed stone for the next 1.00 miles. This may be the most scenic part of the course ("Henning Highway" -RIP, Steve!)

84. Run down towards the I-95 bridges. There should be cone and/or yellow markings. Make a U-turn.

85. Head back towards the trestle bridge and aid station you just passed.

[Water stop #8 again!- 24.0 miles]

86. Follow the yellow arrows back to the Lake Elkhorn dock. Keep the Lake on your right.

87. Once at the dock follow the path towards Cradlerock Way. The playground will be on your left and the McDonald's straight ahead.

88. Bear right and run under the bridge and up the hill to the finish line.

Congratulations you've just completed the Bagel to Beer Marathon. We will be on the patio overlooking Lake Elkhorn. Sonoma's opens @ 10am. Raise your glass and toast your accomplishment.
